A very long time ago,
right here in this world,
there was a garden...

Match the shadows

God made all different kinds of animals to live in his garden.

Can you help match them to their shadows?

In the garden, everything was wonderful. The world was full of laughing and fun.

Fill the garden with plants, trees and animals - then decorate your picture!

This activity sheet is based on the book The Garden the Curtain and the Cross, part of the Tales That Tell the Truth Children's book series.

Every book in this series features beautiful illustrations and engaging story-telling that captures young imaginations but always remains faithful and true to the biblical text. Which means that adults will love these books as much as the kids they are reading to!

There's a series of board books, perfect for toddlers, or storybooks for children 3-6 which go deeper in to the richness of each story. There are also activity books (which this is a small part of) which are great for inspiring creativity as well as FREE lesson plans for a selection of books in the series which help parents teach the story to children.
